DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

1. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shiraishi et al [US 6,809,724].

Regarding claim 1, the claimed method and device for storing and retrieving information from a device carried or worn on the body comprising a bodily worn or carried device (the wearable, wrist-type, portable device 1 serves as user terminal or PDA for storing and retrieving information related to the user, see Figs. 2-5, col. 10, lines 30-41 and col. 12, lines 3-16); and the means of identifying the bodily worn device and being an information storage device (the wearable device 1 includes storage unit 12 for storing all information data and functions, see Fig. 2, col. 12, lines 45-67 and col. 13, lines 1-6); and including the display unit 13 for displaying and identifying information related to the wearer and/or other electronic information data, see Fig. 2, col. 15, lines 40-51, col. 18, lines 17-36, col. 20, lines 1-26 and col. 26, lines 48-51); and the means of accessing the user's information from the device (the display unit 13 and the input unit 14 allows user/wearer access information related to the user, or the PC 140 remotely accesses to user's information data stored/collected by the wearable device 1 over the optical wireless and/or RF links, see Fig. 2, col. 10, lines 30-54, col. 11, lines 1-64, col. 12, lines 10-67 and col. 15, lines 32-63).

Conclusion

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Stockhammer discloses wristwatch communicating with a remote reader in a form as a transponder, RF circuit and/or opto-coupler. The wristwatch detects the biometric data of a wearer can be identified and stored in a chip. [US 6,799,726]

Chaco et al discloses an object location system for locating and communicating with personnel or objects within a facility. The remote badges are coupled to respective objects or personnel to be located. The badges transmit ID associated with their respective objects or personnel. [US RE37,531]

Alt et al discloses a method for identifying a person authorized to enter a secured transaction including implementing a security system to receive a coded signal that purports to identify as an authorized person the wearer of a device generating the coded signal. [US 6,580,356]
